WHY BOOK A BURNIE BRAE GROUP DEPARTURE TOUR?

Your retirement years are a great time to get out there and see the world. The first question people often ask when planning out their adventure is “shall we go alone or join a group tour?” The answer is different for everyone, however there is no denying that our group departures have been incredibly popular over the last year! Below is a roundup of some of the benefits of booking a group tour:

Great value

Planning a trip is an incredibly exciting feeling, however, when costs stack up you can start to feel a little stressed. Travelling with a group can minimise these feelings as group discounts and deals often make these holidays much more cost effective. Included meals and activities also mean you will not be hit with as many surprise costs.

Make friends and travel companions

Being in the company of like-minded travelers will make your holiday all the more enjoyable, and you may even meet travel companions for life! Often you will be given the opportunity to meet your group prior to departure so you feel familiar before the time comes to jet off.

Hassle free adventures

Have you ever been stuck figuring out foreign transport systems, or had a last minute panic over visa requirements? Being part of a group tour means that you have your itinerary and all other travel requirements planned for you. All you will need to figure out is how you will spend your free days.

Unique Experiences

Being in experienced hands often means you have access to unique experiences that you may not have on your own. Tour guides can help you to see, feel, taste and experience things that go beyond the tourist hot spots.

Check out the next column to see what some of our clients had to say about their experience on a Burnie Brae group departure tour.

“I loved the whole experience. Not just the country, but all fellow travellers were friendly, easy to get along with and we were all on a level playing field. There to experience, learn and have a good time. Thank you Travel Connections and Kristie you are an amazing Tour Guide and Hostess.”

“Each part of the trip offered something different to make it special. We had plenty of spectacular scenery, heaps of photo opportunities and amazing and exciting times.”
