Travel Update

SUMMER, 2017 / 2018

Welcome

Welcome to a new year – I hope you all had an enjoyable Christmas with family & friends, and that 2018 is successful for you; bringing much happiness and of course travel!

2017 was a pretty crazy year for me with my two little ones keeping me incredibly busy, plus spending more time at work, and doing a small amount of travel – how times have changed!

My most recent trip was to Bangkok for a Christmas Shopping Extravaganza. As always, Bangkok was fantastic – despite the mayhem and madness the city brings, it was wonderful to revisit some of my favourite places, as well as finding some new ones. One thing which has certainly changed is the shopping centres...there are now a lot more high quality shopping centres with name brands we all know and love, so when you time your visit with some sales you are bound to find a bargain; I was lucky enough to be in Bangkok on Black Friday – what a lovely coincidence.

Of course the market shopping remains excellent, if not hectic and exhausting. There are markets strewn all across the city, most notably Chatuchak market which operates on the weekend only – pack comfortable shoes, drink lots of water, and prepare to shop until you drop, with absolutely everything under the sun for sale under the one ginormous roof!

Queenstown, what a beautiful city! I had the pleasure of visiting and the scenery really took my breath away. From the gorgeous short drives, to the beautiful Milford Sound and skiing the mountains of Coronet Peak and The Remarkables there is so much to see and do in Queenstown. A must do when visiting New Zealand is the day trip out to Milford Sound. From Queenstown, this will be a long day however the views and scenery you see once there make it totally worth it! If skiing or snowboarding is more your thing, then Queenstown is definitely the place for you! In my personal opinion, The Remarkables is a much better choice when it comes to catering for all different skill types. It has a learner/beginner section but also has a variety of blue/black runs for the more advanced. The night life in Queenstown is excellent, there are so many wonderful restaurants and bars to choose from you really are spoilt for choice – my recommendations would be Coalfire, Captains, Winnie's Bar, Fergburger, Minus 5 Ice Bar and Farellis Italian! Let me know if you have any questions about Queenstown, I would love to help send some of you there!

HOT TIP..... When travelling in Asia, always take the hotel information card with address and phone no. etc on it – with you as it will help you communicate your whereabouts when trying to get a taxi back and you can't speak the language or read the script!

I managed to duck away for a birthday celebration in Bali :-)) had a fantastic time relaxing with family. One of my favourite destinations to sit on the beach and watch the sun go down.

Trish - although Trish has moved to Melbourne she still wanted to share this amazing adventure with you all - she will be sadly missed from our office..

I have just returned from a fantastic Viking River Cruise taking in the best of south of France. The 'Lyon and Provence' 8 day itinerary on the Rhone River showcases such beautiful places such as the Pont du Gard, Lyon and Avignon, Viviers and Tournon and rolling fields of lavender. Viking Cruises thoroughly impressed me with their sleek Scandinavian inspired and classy ships which offered beautifully decorated and comfortable cabins, exceptional service and food that was out of this world! This photos shows one of the many gastronomic adventures we had on board with a French themed lunch that was really fun. Yes, I gained 3kg during my 8 days on board but it was soooo worth it!
